Interior: FAMILY ROOM

A color palette of creamy greys and browns in this traditional family room allows for the use of holiday colors and accents, but looking decorating," says Suzanne Tolbach, Allied ADP's Executive Director. "Flora, white light, and golden ornaments would complement the colors and create a warm and inviting mood. The use of beautifully valenced fabrics, wonderful textures, and natural pine, were selected to create a sophisticated space. Solid and gold white contemporary stools and brass metal ring against the neutral color scheme to create a festive holiday look."

Inspiration: PERSONALITY

"A design scheme should reflect the homeowner's personality," says Carolyn Green, Allied ADP's US Guest Services. "One of my favorite rooms to decorate is the entry. Everyone quickly passes through, but the entry has the most impact of any room. It sets the tone for the entire home and gives a clue to the owner's personality and interests. A simple entry table covered with a holiday runner, and set with a festive garland and flowers says it all!"

Idea: SIMPLE CHANGES

"Holidays can be stressful, so make sure your home has a welcoming atmosphere when family and friends visit. You don't have to reinvent the wheel by going out and buying all new decorations. The easiest tip is to pick a color scheme and work your own accessories into it. Tying ribbon around regular throw pillows, around towels in the powder room, or even on runners at the dining table is a great example."
